Dear Counsellor:

I am returning you two letters which I have made copies of for myself. Also enclosing some penalties and interest forms, which I received in the mail this Morning. I feel they must have been sent by mistake, but decided I had better forward them to you to be taken care of. Kindly advise me what you do.

The enclosed letter of January 3rd from Collector of Delinquent Accounts Mallard E. Cuskaden seems to me to take care of the matter pretty thoroughly and satisfactory. In the fourth paragraph he speaks of our liability under Title IX of the Social Security Act and the possibility of double taxation with respect to 1938 contribution, this, I imagine, is the Federal Tax that the Gentleman in Trenton spoke of. As I remember it, he said if the State Tax has been paid, it can be deducted from the Federal Tax when it is assessed, if the State tax has not been paid you will have to pay both of them in full.

Will you kindly investigate further and find out about this and see what can be done, or do you think the matter should just stand as is and wait and see what happens.

Thank you so much for your kind co-operation and efforts in this matter.

Yours very truly,

EM:CCJ
